TEDDY URGES PROGRESSIVES TO SUPPORT HUGHES; FINALLY REFUSES NOMINATION

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, June 26.—Charles E. Hughes wired Secretary O. K. Davis, of the Progressive national committee, today welcoming the Progressive support. He arraigned the Wilson administration for "weakness and uncertainty." Hughes published a letter to Roosevelt, declaring that the nation was indebted to the colonel "for quickening the national spirit and demand for out-and-out 100 per cent Americanism."

Hughes said today: "I welcome the Progressives' support. We want a revival of the American spirit and the nation restored. The most serious difficulties of the present administration are due to weakness and uncertainty. I am convinced that by prompt and decisive action, which existing conditions manifestly called for, the Lusitania tragedy would have been prevented. Unpreparedness in the midst of Mexican peril is a demonstration of unpardonable neglect for which the administration is responsible. No intelligent man is deceived by the temporary prosperity due to abnormal conditions. No one will fail to appreciate the problems when the war ends. Industry must have proper protection if labor is to be safeguarded.

"The sober truth, as I see it, is that as we go forward we must make the Republican party the instrument of our advance. We want deeds, not words, and far-reaching national policies."

Hughes decided upon Ralph E. William, Oregon Republican committeeman, as vice-chairman of the Pacific Coast, with headquarters probably at San Francisco.

Progressives For Hughes.
CHICAGO, June 26.—The Progressive national committee voted today to endorse Hughes. The move was led by Perkins, James R. Garfield, and Chester H. Rowell. The vote was 32 to 6, nine declining to vote. Secretary Davis read Roosevelt's letter endorsing Hughes. The letter follows:
